Freezing Rain Climate Atlas: The publication titled "Climate Atlas: Freezing Rain and Ice Storms" by Stanley A. Changnon of Changnon Climatologist is now available through NCDC's on-line store. This publication provides the results of the OGP funded project that Stan and Tami Houston recently completed. This is the first ever climate atlas concerning ice storms and freezing rain occurrences across the United States. Insured property losses from ice storm catastrophes in the United States average $326 million (in 2000 dollars) annually. Ice storms also cause major damage to the natural and planted environments as well as loss of life and injuries. This atlas will be of interest to those interested in how weather impacts man and the environment, especially those who design weather-sensitive structures. The price will be:
